The Pacific Road Tunnel to Begin at the West Line of State Street—The All-Night Saloon Ordinance Passes—The Fire Fencing Works—A Lively Session of the County Board Yesterday—Mr. Swenson's Account—Justices Sued and Forgotten.

Mayor Harrison called the Council to order last night. The straight-opera ordinance, which was the special order for 8 o'clock, was then called.

Ald. Belmont hoped the ordinance would not be passed, as once a long would be an all-night bowling game for sport. He had heard of an account from the sympathetic nurses of those required to work at night that they be considered, and was inclined to believe that the ordinance was simply in the interests of those who wanted to stay up all night indefinitely. Ald. Agnew said that he knew several keep open anyway, and that the city might as well derive a benefit from it as not. All-night saloons, he thought, would be favorable to the police, as the officers would be all on hand and keep track of the crooks who frequented them. The Mayor said he was one that the Council, who passed the ordinance, wanted to reach the conclusion which would injure all right. The ordinance was lost, the vote to detail being as follows:

One hundred Democrats visited the President at the White House yesterday, and Mayor Francis of St. Louis speeches to Mr. Cleveland an invitation to visit that city the first week in October. The invitation was accepted, but no date was agreed upon, Mr. Cleveland stating that he had made a prior agreement to go to Atlanta early in the same month. He also said Mrs. Cleveland would accompany him.

On a division rendered yesterday the Interstate Commerce Commission ruled that railroad carriers may continue the issuance of mileage passenger tickets, the charges for which must be reasonable and just, and free from unjust discrimination or unreasonable preference; that commercial travelers are not privileged to ride over railroads at lower rates than are paid by other persons, and to charge one person more than another is unjust discrimination, and this is true whether mileage tickets are issued or transportation in some other form.

Under the provisions of the Civil Service act the following services have been fully ventilated: King's Letters, Laughed, Major, Gallery, Mary, Executioners, Clean, Query, Cook, Limerick, Gilmore, Quarry, Tipperary, Waterford, Wexford, Donegal, and Canadian. The services partially proficient are Plough, Carlow, Derry, Clare, Dublin, Kildare, Connaught, Londonderry, South Shore, Tyrone, West Meath, and Wicklow. The following terms have also been pronounced: Dublin, Cork, Limerick, Waterford, Gallowglass, Kilkenny, Drogheda, Belfast, Carrickfergus, and Galway.

The demand for money in this city was large and rates were readily had. During midweek was steady. The trade in investment securities was moderate. The New York stock market was dull and weak.—The Chicago grain markets were more active, closed selling at the lowest point touched yet, with an increase in the visible supply, which was the largest on the last of any market. Provisions were heavy and closed about 25¢ lower.

Mr. Cleveland's letter of acceptance was published giving the free coast to wrists for the quarter ending June 30 has shown the receipts of New York were $1,000,000; of Chicago, $407,111; of Philadelphia, $400,000; of Boston, $400,000; and of St. Louis, $200,000. As compared with New York it will be observed that our receipts are fully as large in proportion to population. She has nearly double our population, and nearly double our receipts. As compared with Philadelphia, however, there is a great gain in our favor. She has at least 500,000 more population than Chicago, but we have about $10,000 more receipts, showing a proportionate increase of business over her. Meanwhile corporation-loving Boston, with over a million inhabitants, is but $1,000 behind her in receipts, while poor old St. Louis, with about the same population as Boston, is $400,000 behind her in receipts. If her prosperous there is a population decreasing rate were allowed it would indicate that about two-thirds of her people has no business with the outside world at all.

THAT SOUTHERN BORDER.

Owing to the prompt and sensible message of Judge Gardner the sensitive feelin trial is advancing rapidly. Eight important witnesses were examined yesterday. There has already been of such a character as to interest deeply jurors, defendants, and lawyers. The evidence related for the most part to the salubrious grand-mal (sic, with the general history of which the readers of The Tribune ought to be familiar, as the leading facts were all told in the latter part of April, 1886, after the grand contractor Cleveland's successful bid for $6,000 had been allowed by the County Board under a suspension of the rules, and before the County Clerk issued the order for payment. The Tribune at once urged the Liberal Councilors to ask for an injunction against the payment of the bill pending an investigation. Nothing was done at the time. The testimony of some of the leading parties to the transaction yesterday established by fraudulent character, and is conclusive proof of the dishonest nature of the scheme at the job per forward at the time by Chairman Eldon and other Democrats.

Henry C. Clybourn of the grand contracting firm swore that through [illegible] Eldon, a former at the time, of Lyons, who is now one of the wife contractors for the county and Harry Varnell, at the time Warden of the House Bridge, he entered into a contract with the County Board to furnish 1,000 cubic yards of gravel to repair the county road running west of the county farm in the Town of Jefferson and Norwood Park. The original agreement was that Clybourn should get $1,000 in the Democratic warrants through Varnell and Eldon for the job. He was to make up the difference by overcharging for the gravel—billing it at $2 per cubic yard instead of 50¢, for which he was to allow parties had promised the public for such testimony as was offered yesterday. Otherwise it ought to counteract amusement.

PROJECT AND LETTER.

Mr. S. S. Cowen's memory of the gas transaction with Frank Lester is for some connection to the statement from the Bridgeport district that Mr. Lester's own. According to Mr. Cowen the $50 was given as a loan, after much begging by Lester through his brothers-in-law, [illegible] Union Coal Yard, and not a Citizens' Gas company. Lester's version is that gave to his own words, without regard to the account.

Cowen showed to the Gas Trustees, the plant [illegible] Lester's statement of the amount of gas [illegible] Lester's own, and [illegible] Lester's own, [illegible] Lester's own, [illegible] Lester's own,

LONDON, July 31.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Morley asked what had happened to explain the proclamation of the whole of Ireland, since the Government had assured the House that the law was as well obeyed in some parts of Ireland as in any part of Great Britain.

Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, replied that he had no reason to change his opinion that parts of Ireland were as quiet as parts of England. What the Government had done was not to apply the whole Crimes act to Ireland generally, but only to such districts dealing with rioting, incendiary assemblies, and obstruction of police.

Mr. Healy asked whether the Executive before issuing the proclamation declaring the meetings about to be held unlawful, possessed the slightest shadow of evidence to prove crime from those which it was attempted to forcibly crush.

Mr. Balfour said that a every case in which a meeting had been specially proclaimed the proclamation had been issued because the Government believed in the actual occurrence of crimes or intimidation.

The House then went into committee on the Land bill. Upon taking up the first clause, amending in certain particulars the 1st section of the act, Mr. Parnell proposed an amendment, which, in effect, is drawing power to the Land Commission to declare the benefits of the act extend to the tenants. He explained that the object of the amendment was to enable the tenants to have the right to apply for the period of such application to be limited in some cases.

Mr. Balfour accepted the amendment with a limit of two years, Mr. Parnell agreeing.

Mr. Parnell proposed to extend the clause, so as to empower the Land Commission to declare in certain cases that the Ulsterman system should
